Message from the Organizing Committee:

We are delighted to announce that the 4th International Symposium on Novel Carbon Resource Sciences: Environmental Science and technology will be held from 12-13 December 2009 in School of Environmental Science & Engineering, SJTU, Shanghai, China. This is a joint symposium between SJTU and Kyushu University, mainly presenting the most current sciences and technologies from universities under Kyushu University G-COE program of Novel Carbon Resource Sciences, which are: Kyushu University, Japan; Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China; Korea Institute of Energy Research, South Korea; Institute Technology Bandung, Indonesia; Curtin University, Australia; and National Environmental Engineering Research Institute, India.

The symposium is intended to cover all aspects of novel carbon resource sciences listed below, but focuses mainly on environmental science and technology. The scientific program will include invited lectures and contributed papers (oral and poster).

Topics:

1. Environmental Science
2. Environmental pollution control technology
3. Carbon resource utilization
4. New Energy
5. Policy and novel carbon technology
6. New materials related to novel carbon resource sciences
